COVID-19 SELF SCREENING PORTAL

Get a Head Start on Controlling the Spread of COVID-19.

Protect your workforce by taking extra precautions to contain the risk of exposure to COVID-19 with a self-screening portal for your employees. This tool enables early detection of workers with possible exposure or symptoms BEFORE they report to work and potentially contaminate the jobsite, then infect others.

COVID-19 Self-Screening Portal.

Total Safety now offers a COVID-19 Self-Screening Portal that can be used in addition to our Onsite Medical Screening services. With the HIPAA-compliant portal, you can manage the health of your work site with insight for just $25 per screening.

The online screener is fast and easy! Employees are issued an access code to log onto the COVID-19 Self-Screening Portal online at home, or anywhere, using a computer or mobile device. When prompted the user answers four questions derived from the CDC and WHO that screen for potential exposure and infection. Results are emailed to your organization in PDF format immediately upon submission.

If an employee answers positively to any of the exposure questions, they are directed to self-quarantine, call their doctor and call their employer. If they answer positively to the infection question, they are directed to the CDC Coronavirus Self Checker for steps to self-isolate and the proper procedures for seeking medical care while minimizing risk to others. Either way, this employee will not be entering the workplace preventing further risk of contamination and infection.

Once cleared by the COVID-19 Portal Screener, the user is instructed proceed to the job site where they will be tested for current fever using a non-contact thermometer and observed for signs and symptoms of infectious disease.

Healthy Worker Population & Confidence.

Having professional medical resources and an emergency management plan in place will help your employees feel confident about showing up to work knowing that extra measures are being taken to monitor their health and environment, including protecting the health of front-line screening professionals.

Total Safety can provide a level of care beyond medical staff and equipment, being experts in emergency planning and preparedness for your entire job site. In addition to turnkey medical services, we offer products to protect workers remotely with video surveillance, push to talk communication equipment, atmosphere monitoring, breathing air systems, and much more.
